An aerial photograph of Parashar Lake during sunset. The lake is a calm, light-colored body of water with a small, circular floating island in the center. To the right of the lake, there is a complex of wooden buildings with dark, tiered roofs, resembling a temple or monastery. The surrounding landscape is a lush green valley with rolling hills and a winding path. The sky is a warm, golden-orange color from the setting sun.

ABOUT THE PLACE

Parashar Lake is a serene and picturesque lake located in the Mandi district of Himachal Pradesh, India. Nestled at an altitude of about 2,730 meters, the lake is surrounded by lush green meadows and dense forests, offering a tranquil retreat for nature lovers.

The lake is named after the sage Parashar, who is believed to have meditated here, and a beautiful three-tiered pagoda-style temple dedicated to him stands beside the lake. The floating island in the middle of the lake, which changes position throughout the year, adds to its mystique. Parashar Lake is not only a spiritual destination but also a perfect spot for trekking, with panoramic views of the Dhauladhar range and the surrounding valleys.
